INDUSTRY CHALLENGES

THE FREQUENT CHALLENGES OUR CUSTOMERS FACE

We are in the midst of an exciting time in the evolution of the aviation industry across a whole range of areas, with advances in technologies and materials opening doors to entirely new aviation sectors including Uncrewed Aircraft Systems (UAS), Advanced Air Mobility (AAM) and the electrification of aircraft. With this evolution, comes a number of challenges that organisations are facing.

NAVIGATING COMPLEX AVIATION REGULATIONS

Keeping up with evolving aviation regulations and standards can be overwhelming.

RISK IDENTIFICATION & MITIGATION

In a rapidly evolving technical environment, it can be a struggle to identify, mitigate and manage operational risks effectively.

ACHIEVING OPERATIONAL APPROVALS

Securing regulatory approvals (e.g., drone operations, hardware and software certification) is a time-consuming and lengthy process.

ENHANCING SAFETY MANAGEMENT SYSTEMS

Many organisations lack an effective SMS to proactively manage risks and meet regulatory requirements.

OUR SOLUTIONS

SUMMARY OF SOLUTIONS

As a trusted partner to customers in the crewed and uncrewed sectors, our suite of solutions are brought to you by subject matter experts with a proven track record in their respective fields.

- UAS CONSULTING

Whether you're a UAS manufacturer or operator, UTM or UAM developer, we help you get airborne. From getting regulatory approval to test, trial and operate, to implementing a Safety Management System, we partner with you on your journey to success.

- SORA

Utilise our experience in successful SORA based approvals with multiple European regulators, covering a wide range of UAS use cases. As SORA becomes the way ahead for the UAS industry in the UK, we're well placed to help clients adjust to this new way of working with the CAA.

- BOWTIE RISK MANAGEMENT & TRAINING

As aviation's leading experts in risk and safety management methodology BowTie, we provide you with the training, software and consulting support you need to get the most out of this best practice tool. We even have an accelerated programme, BowTie Fast Track, that gets you up and running in no time at all.

“
Their trainers are enthusiastic and have great expertise, delivering the training to a very high standard.
